Sean co-founded the Firm in 2015.

A strategic thinker with a calming presence in the midst of crisis situations and able to put his clients at ease. He ‘distills complex matters to their essence’ and ‘knows his way around a courtroom incredibly well.’

- CHAMBERS USA

Described by Chambers USA as “excellent, thoughtful, and dedicated,” and “an incredibly calm voice of reason,” he is equally adept fighting for his clients in the courtroom before judges and juries, conducting investigations involving dozens of witnesses, and working closely with his clients behind the scenes to help navigate their most difficult challenges.

He has had some of his most pronounced success in persuading prosecutors and regulators to decline to even bring criminal cases and enforcement actions, often after years of investigation, and in convincing judges to dismiss meritless complaints and lawsuits.

“Sean is one of the best, if not the best, lawyers I have had the pleasure to work with. I hope to not have to call a lawyer again. But if I need to, he will be my first phone call.” Chambers USA Commentator

The desire to have the freedom and flexibility to provide personal service to each of his clients led Sean to help found the Firm; it now handles litigation, regulatory, investigatory and monitorship related services of considerable size and complexity.

“I would absolutely recommend Sean Haran to anyone in need. He is a master of his craft.” Chambers USA Commentator

Sean takes criminal and civil cases to trial before juries and judges in federal and state courts, as well as in federal administrative proceedings and before arbitration tribunals. And he has defended scores of senior executives, professionals, and companies in their capacity as subjects, targets and witnesses in connection with federal, state and local criminal and regulatory investigations and proceedings.

“Sean Haran is one of the most professional and intelligent lawyers and human beings I ever worked with.” Chambers USA Commentator

As an Assistant U.S. Attorney in the Eastern District of New York (EDNY), he took more than a dozen cases to jury verdict and supervised federal prosecutors in the Business and Securities Fraud Section. While an AUSA, Sean handled many of the highest profile and complex white collar criminal matters in the Office, including prosecutions and grand jury investigations of securities fraud, health care fraud, bank fraud, money laundering offenses, bribery, tax fraud, obstruction of justice, racketeering, material support of terrorism and import/export control violations.

“Sean is very effective in terms of diffusing situations and getting great results for clients.” Chambers USA Commentator
